

The Wives of Women (And The Husbands of Men)

To them
You and your girlfriend
Are just their fantasy
Don't you want to
Be taken seriously?
I know that I do

So let's not pretend
That we're not friends
You and your kind
And me and mine
The wives of women
And the husbands of men

Isn't it time
We put our differences aside?
And defend
Our difference
From the ignorant

To them
We are the perceived threat
God's enemy
Don't you want to Help them see us differently?
I know that I do

So let's not pretend
That we're not friends
You and your kind
And me and mine
The wives of women
And the husbands of men

Isn't it time
We put our differences aside?
And defend
Our difference
From the ignorant

Because the only difference is
Who we choose to kiss
And everything else
About ourselves
Is no different
From our parents
Who brought us into the world
But us fags need your help
Every one of you girls

So let's not pretend
That we're not friends
You and your kind
And me and mine
The wives of women
And the husbands of men

Isn't it time
We put our differences aside?
And defend
Our difference
From the ignorant